REACH thousands!

Groupbrochures.com is a brand new innovation from Group Leisure magazine, the UK's number one group travel publication. This provides a unique opportunity to view brochures in digital format online offering destinations, venues and events, all from the comfort of home or office. It's just like the real thing but available at the click of a mouse!

Website visitors are able to view and read the latest brochures online provided by tour and coach operators, tourist boards, hotels, cruise lines, theatres and ticketing agents, together with publications from UK and overseas venues, simply and quickly with no post to worry about!

The website is now live and you can include your own brochures at low cost. If you wish, you can also link direct to your online digital brochure with a link from your own website and benefit from the thousands of visitors who visit Groupleisure.com every month.

All we require are PDF's of your brochure pages and we do the rest. An online proof will be sent to you before your brochure goes live.
